At Ryerson University, we're dedicated to creating a culture of action. Education and experience go hand in hand - what you learn in our classrooms is enhanced by real-world knowledge through internships and co-ops, or amplified through zone learning, specialized minors and graduate programs. Our professors boldly challenge conventional methods. They share their work and research with you, giving you invaluable context, teaching you resourcefulness and demonstrating exactly how your ideas can have a real impact. So when you graduate, you'll not only have the strong academic foundation required for your chosen field or venture, you'll also have the experience you need to stand out from the crowd.

Amplify your experience

Ryerson has a unique experiential program called zone learning – a great complement to your courses with the opportunity to earn an additional credential on your transcript. Participate in one of the university's 10 zones, from fashion to biomedical science, and discover what it takes to create social change, fire up a big idea or launch a startup. Not just for entrepreneurs, zone learning gives you the chance to help shape an initiative from the ground up. You'll work with like-minded students from diverse disciplines and community groups. Collaborating on zone projects gives you valuable first-hand experience – in areas such as networking, project management, sales, marketing and more – that employers actively seek.

Admission Requirements

Basis of Admission

Applicants educated outside of Ontario must submit evidence of education equivalent to the Ontario Secondary School Diploma (OSSD) with six Grade 12 U or M courses. Please note: Ryerson reserves the right to be the final arbiter of what will be accepted on an equivalency basis.

It is essential that subject prerequisite requirements and grades for specific Ryerson programs form part of the academic background of applicants from outside Ontario, especially in the last two years of secondary school studies.

Admission is based on competitive overall admission averages, competitive grades in program-specific subject requirements and, where applicable, non-academic requirements (e.g., portfolio, admission essay, interview, audition, etc.). Your complete academic record, including secondary school as well as all post-secondary studies (e.g., college, university or other post-secondary institutions), will be reviewed and considered as part of the competitive selection process. For current Ontario secondary school applicants, Ryerson may use Grade 11 results in the early admission selection process.

You must have completed, or be currently completing, your program's admission requirements at the time you apply. Meeting the minimum published admission requirements and/or grades does not guarantee admission. The overall average and subject-specific grades required for each program depend on competition each year, and admission is offered to the best-qualified applicants based on the information available at the time of application review.

International Admission Requirements for Entry Level Programs

All Programs — International Equivalencies

Ontario	Completion of the Ontario Secondary School Diploma (OSSD) or equivalent with six Grade 12 U/M courses or equivalent including English/Anglais and program-specific subject prerequisites. A minimum overall average of 70% (or equivalent) in six Grade 12 U/M courses establishes eligibility to apply for admission.
American School System/ Advanced Placement	Graduation from Grade 12 of an academic program at an accredited secondary school with high academic standing including minimum B grades in the program-specific subject prerequisites and a minimum B overall average. Subject to competition, applicants may be required to present averages/grades above the minimum. The high school profile (including accreditation, grading scheme, etc.) must accompany the academic record. SAT Reasoning with a minimum score of 550 in each SAT component is recommended. ACT scores (24 minimum) and Advanced Placement (AP) examination results are also considered.
British-Patterned Education	Applicants must present the following: GCE A Levels (at least two A Levels in different subject areas with predicted and final grades of B or higher in one subject and C or higher in another subject) and GCSE O Levels (at least three different subject areas at the GCSE O Level with final grades of at least B or higher in one subject and C or higher in two other subjects). Note: Two AS Levels are acceptable in place of an A Level. Prerequisite subjects should be presented at the GCE A Level; however, excellent AS Levels and GCSE O Levels will be considered for some programs. Cambridge Pre-U requirements and acceptable BTEC qualifications may be found at ryerson.ca/undergraduate/admission/overview .
International Baccalaureate	Applicants who have completed the International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma must present grades of 4 or higher in three Higher Level and three Standard Level subjects with a grade total of 28 or higher. Subject to competition, applicants may be required to present averages/grades above the minimum. Applicants must include the specific subject requirements for the program(s) to which they are applying among their Higher and Standard Levels. The IB certificate and IB Career-related Programme (IBCP) cannot be used in lieu of the high school diploma requirement.
Other Education Systems	Please visit ryerson.ca/undergraduate/admission/overview for information about general admission requirements from education systems around the world, including French Baccalaureate, Indian and Commonwealth Caribbean.

Transfer Credit: AP courses with examination scores of 4 or higher; GCE A Levels with grades of C or higher and IB Higher Levels with grades of 5 or higher will be considered for transfer credit on an individual basis. AS Levels will not be considered for transfer credit. Engineering students are not eligible for transfer credits for core professional engineering courses.

Note: The information provided here is an overview and subject to change. Admission requirements vary by program and faculty, and program-specific requirements apply. Possession of the minimum requirements does not guarantee admission; due to competition, higher results may be required. Full details are available at ryerson.ca/undergraduate/admission/overview.

Your Ryerson Number must be clearly printed on all non-academic materials you submit. For further information about specific non-academic requirements, including submission deadline dates, procedures and applicable fees, visit the Academic Program page for your program of interest at ryerson.ca/undergraduate/admission/programs.
